

How to have conversations about vaccination

source: www.who.int

@DENROfficial | www.denr.gov.ph

Listen with empathy

Listen to those who have questions about vaccination and acknowledge how they are feeling.

source: www.who.int

@DENROfficial | www.denr.gov.ph

Ask open-ended questions

These questions bring out responses other than yes or no which can help us better understand their concerns and work through their thoughts.

source: www.who.int

@DENROfficial | www.denr.gov.ph

Share trusted information

It is okay not to know all the answers, you can check answers from reputable sources including, World Health Organization (who.int), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (cdc.gov), local health department (doh.gov.ph) or trusted doctor, nurse or pharmacist.

source: www.who.int

@DENROfficial | www.denr.gov.ph

Explore reasons for wanting to get vaccinated

Share your own reasons for wanting to get vaccinated or experience of vaccination to help others overcome any concerns.

source: www.who.int

@DENROfficial | www.denr.gov.ph

