ONLINE LEAVE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (OLMS) EQUIPMENT SUPPORT

I. PROJECT BRIEF

The Online Leave Management System (OLMS) would be a tool for the DENR to quickly and effectively handle timekeeping and leave requests, preserve records, and retrieve employee personal and leave data. It will increase the effectiveness of service delivery and ensure that employee leaves and daily time record summaries are calculated accurately. It is a web-based application with many users and roles that offers a quick and practical approach to preparing and recording personal data.

II. BACKGROUND

Parallel to the routine processing of DTR and manual leave applications, the DENR Central Office is now testing the Online Leave Management System (OLMS). The majority of employees and officials have their accounts and may utilize the system, navigate it, and view their real-time biometric attendance logs. They also can view their current and historical DTRs and use the OLMS's online request facilities. The dashboard of the system allows both supervisors and staff members within a division or office to observe team attendance, keep track of their coworkers' arrival times, and use it as a locator chart as well.
